

Grade One Oral Reading Conference

Name: _____

Living in the Trees      Level: 2/B	Date: _____ Word count: (42)
This bird lives in a tree. (tree)                  This snake lives in a tree. (tree)                  This lizard lives in a tree. (tree)                  This monkey lives in a tree. (tree)                  This squirrel lives in a tree. (tree)                  This frog lives in a tree. (tree)	Comments:

Animals in the Snow      Level: 3/C	Date: _____ Word count: (69)
Look at this bird.                  This bird can live in the snow.                  Look at this bear.                  This bear can live in the snow.                  Look at this seal.                  This seal can live in the snow, too.                  Here is a fox. The fox can hide in the snow.                  Here is a hare. Can this hare hide in the snow? Yes!                  Look at this tiger. Can this tiger hide in the snow?                  No!	Comments:

The Octopus      Level: 6-8/E	Date: _____ Word count: (115)
Look at the octopus. It lives in the sea.                  It can swim fast. (octopus)                  The octopus can go over the rocks, too. (rocks)                  The octopus has long arms.                  Look! The octopus has a crab.                  The crab can't get away. (arm)                  The octopus has a big head.                  It has big eyes.                  It can see under the water. (head) (eye)                  Look at the skin on this octopus.                  The skin can look like this. (blue skin)                  The skin can look like this, too. (red skin)                  The octopus can put ink in the water.                  The octopus can get away.                  The ink can help the octopus hide.                  (octopus) ( ink)                  The octopus can hide in the rocks, too! (octopus)	Comments:

Gorillas	Level: 10-12/F-G	Date: _____	Word count: (100)
(Read p2 to p8)                  Gorillas are apes. They have a big head with little ears and little eyes.                  Gorillas do not have a tail. (ear)                  Gorillas are very big. They can be big like people.                  Look at the arms and the legs.                  The arms are long. The legs are short.                  (short legs) (long arms)                  Gorillas look for food to eat in the day.                  They like to sleep in the day, too.                  (leaves) (shoots)                  A gorilla will make a nest at night.                  Some gorillas make their nests in the trees.                  They can sleep in the nest. (nest)                  Some gorillas make their nests on the ground.		Comments:

Cool Crabs	Level: 14-16/H-I	Date: _____	Word count: (94)
(Read p5to p9)                  This crab is very small.                  It is the smallest crab in the world.                  It is the size of a green pea.                  These crabs have hard shells that keep them safe from danger. (hard shell)                  This crab has no shell. When it finds an empty shell, it goes inside and lives there. (empty shell)                  Crabs have eyes on top of stalks.                  When there is danger, this crab hides in the sand.                  The crab’s eyes are not in the sand.                  The crab is looking around.                  It can see other animals but they won’t see it. (eyes)		Comments:

Fangs and Teeth	Level: 16/I-J	Date: _____	Word count: (113)
(Read p11 to p13)                  The Komodo dragon has lots of small teeth in its mouth. The teeth are like a saw and they are very sharp. When the Komodo dragon is hungry, it will go after any animal that moves. It can sink its sharp teeth into pigs, deer, horses and even buffaloes!                  If a tooth falls out, the Komodo dragon will grow a new one.                  The viperfish lives deep down at the bottom of the sea, where it is very dark. It has long teeth as sharp as needles. The teeth are too long to fit inside its mouth. In the dark water, other fish can’t see the viperfish, and they get trapped in its teeth.		Comments:	