Travelling Animals

Every year, some animals move from one place to another.

These animals move to:

- find food or water,
- have babies or lay eggs,
- find a warm place.

Some animals move back to the place they left and some don't.

Fact Box

About 100 million red crabs live on Christmas Island.

Labels: red crabs

Every year, the red crabs of Christmas Island travel from the forest to the beach to have their babies. They move in a straight line, and climb over anything that is in their way. They have to travel in the morning or in the evening, when it is not too hot, or they could die.

Key: Christmas Island, crabs, rainforest
Christmas Island is north-west of Australia.
